

All I Know Is I'll Be With You Soon

Words by Leslie Latour, music by Larry Latour, ©2006

You've been ridin like a cowboy ever since you were a child
I'd be watchin cross the fences and you scared me but I just smiled
We'd be ridin from dusk to dawn
Singin some silly country song
Then I'd tell you it's gettin dark, better get back home

On the day you turned 16 you got a stallion that you had to break
As I watched him get the best of you
I thought I'd taken all that I could take
Then you calmed him with your smile
Till you rode him in your classy style
And as I watched you ride away
I knew you'd stole my heart

I know that you would always come back home
So I'll look for your smile in the half-light of the Moon
I know you'd never leave me here alone
All I know is you'll be with me soon

Well it's more than 50 years ago we took the trail of Man and Wife
I could never count the blessings I've been given with you in my life
Then your ride became too rough
And we knew that you had had enough
You said I'll just ride on up ahead now
And I love you
And I'll meet you back home....

Everyone is gone, they've left me here alone,
I still look for your smile in the half-light of the moon
They keep on sayin you've only just gone home
All I know is I'll be with you soon
