

No one to Blame

I don't know if you can see
The toll that all this takes on me.
And sometimes things don't always work out fair.
Then I look... and you're not there....
I just love you
I just love you

I Keep on waiting till you see the light Might be things all work out right but right to me & her it's not the same Right or wrong she has no shame
But I still love you
But I still love you

I've said so many times
I can see it in her eyes...
I can hear it in your sighs

Nothing anyone can do up to you to find what's true
And it don't matter everybody knows...

She can't ever let go

But I still love you
But I still love you

No one to blame
No one to blame
but right or wrong it's not the same
Right or wrong she has no shame
There's no one to blame.

I've stayed and never said a thing Silent with your ramblings waited for your love to bring you home.
Seems like I've been alone so long

I still love you
I still love you
I still love you
She still loves you too
