

There Something About Train
Tracks – G Capo 2 (Les C Capo 3)

There's something about train tracks
They photograph so well
They take your breath away
At the break of day
When the sun's right you can tell

But sometimes your minds on other things
The tracks are crying today
The 9:15 to Hartford
It just took my love away

There's something about train tracks
Disappearing in the fog
The train slowly fades as it heads away
All I hear is a barking dog

sometimes my minds on other things
Like when you left and went away
You had to find it
Whatever it was
On the 9:15 that day

Straight as an arrow
You were gone in a moment

Gently fading away
Into gray

Chorus

When a train leaves in the morning
It'll take your breath away
And All that's left are the memories
And the tracks along the way

There's something about train tracks
You're gone
But they're still here full of promise
Full of mystery
They don't ever disappear

sometimes my minds on other things
It's reminding me today
That we kissed goodbye forever
At 9:15 that day

There in the morning the 9:15 left me
Heading out slow and away
You had to find it
Whatever it was

I wondered how you lost it
Anyway
